SAD BLOW TO THE CAPITAL MOVING SCHEME.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—The capital-movers got badly defeated in the Senate this afternoon, if they ever really hoped to show any strength there. The pending proposition to appropriate half a million dollars for beginning a new State Department in the square now occupied by the War and Navy Departments, and to authorize the extension of the Capitol grounds on the east and west, at an estimated cost of $500,000. The first of these was carried, by a vote of 41 YEAS to 30 NAYS, voting in the negative being Chaverly, Chandler, Cragin, Harlan, Harris, Howard, Howell, Kellogg, Morton, Pratt, Schurz, Sherman, Spencer, Sprague, and Yates. Only part of these gentlemen can be spoken of as in favor of moving the capital, as several expressly declared that they would vote against the amendment solely on the ground that it is not now best to begin a new State Department. Among those who voted in the affirmative were the following-named Western Senators: Howe, Trumbull, Drake, Ramsey, Norton, Thayer, Tipton, Cole, Corbett, Nye, Stewart, Rice, McDonald. The amendment enlarging the Capitol grounds was agreed to without division. Plans for the new State Department must be approved by the Secretaries of State, War, and the Navy, so as to be attainable, suppose to have all three of these branches of governmental service under one roof.

THE SECTARIAN BUBBLE.

had an unexpectedly hard fight in the Senate. The House had agreed to give General Eaton, for the next year, $8,000, while the Senate Committee on Appropriations recommended cutting the amount down to $5,000. The Senate, after several hours' debate, on two or three occasions, has finally overruled the committee, and, by a vote of 30 to 19, concurred with the House; and so the bureau, after the end of June, will have a Commissioner, at a salary of $5,000; one clerk, $1,800; one clerk, $1,600; one clerk, $1,400; one messenger, four assistant messengers, $600; library, $1,800; police stationer, $1,400; contingencies, $1,500—in all, $24,500.

THE NORTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD BILL.

Another attempt was made to force the Northern Pacific Railroad bill through the House this morning. The Republicans who opposed it yesterday, had a consultation before the session opened, and agreed to act together and thus defeat the friends of the bill to consider the amendments. They demanded that Orth should be allowed to make an amendment occupying five minutes, when he announced that all those who opposed asked was to have the bill referred so that amendments in the direction of economy and the government might be considered. The statement was made so as to induce the House to refuse a third reading of the bill, and it was then seen that several amendments to the Pacific Railroad Committee.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC RAILROAD.

The Senate Railroad Committee have agreed upon the Southern Pacific Bill. The road is to start from Marshall, Texas, via El Paso, to San Diego, California. The United States is to grant forty sections to the mile beyond the border of Texas. The Texas part of the State the road will depend upon its Legislature for aid. Fremont's road is to be allowed to connect at El Paso, with the Southern Pacific.

THE FREEDMEN'S BUREAU

Investigation continued to-day. The session was chiefly occupied in submitting official records called for by the prosecution in support of the several charges.

THE HOMESTEAD BILL.

Mr. Arnell, of Tennessee, to-day, introduced a measure to be supplementary to the Homestead and Pacific Railroad bill. It puts the alternate sections of land not granted by the road into the hands of Freedmen's Bureaus to be known as Freedman's Homestead Commissioners, who are to sell or mortgage these lands, and with the proceeds provide homes for freedmen in the South, and take measures to promote education among them.

THE TARIFF BILL.

The tariff contest was renewed in the House and though many expected the Senate to do anything with the bill at this session, unless Congress sine die the end of August, more time is to be spent on it in the lower branch. There seems to be over from last week but one of the steel paragraphs, and this and the duty on syrups at six cents per pound, which finds the House reduced to five.

CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION SCHEME.

WASHINGTON, May 11.—Collector Kearney, of Corpus Christi, Texas, arrived here to-day. He was instantly notified on the 4th instant, while proceeding from the Rio Grande, by a portion of the United States military escort, of Gillem's column to Austin commanded by Lieut. Dewart. The matter has been referred to the department.

THE TARIFF AND TAX BILL.

The rumor that the President is preparing a special message to Congress on the tariff and tax bills seems to be without foundation. A member of the Ways and Means Committee called upon the President this morning and states that the President expressed the opinion that Congress should not adjourn before the tariff was acted upon, and take up the Internal Tax bill next fall. The President also expressed the opinion that Congress should not adjourn before the Internal Revenue bill was ready, and he hoped the Chairman of the Committee of Ways and Means would not allow the House would lay aside the tariff and go to practical work on the Internal Revenue bill the first Monday next fall.

The committee rose at 10 o'clock, and the House adjourned.

THE RICHARDSONM-FARLAND CASE.

Mrs. Richardson's Statement Regarding the Formal Separation from Mr. Richardson.—Card from Chas. A. Richardson.—Letter from Mr. Richardson to Junius Henri Browne, in December, 1867.

Special Dispatch to The Chicago Tribune.

NEW YORK, May 11.—The republication of Mrs. Albert D. Richardson's statement about her life with Richardson caused considerable comment here. The Tribune published it extensively, and the regular edition was exhausted early in the forenoon. A special edition of 45,000 was printed, containing the statements in the case, together with Judge Hackett's charge to the jury, and Mr. Greeley's card, which appeared in the Tribune. This special edition was ready at 11 o'clock, and 35,000 copies of it had been sold up to 8 o'clock this evening. The demand for copies continued to-day, and preparations are now being made to supply the people's insatiable appetite for sensational literature. Mrs. Richardson's statement is as follows:

To the Editor of the Tribune:

SIR: Having been requested by my friends to make a statement of the facts in my case, I have prepared the following, which I desire to be published in the Tribune, as I have always found that paper fair and impartial in its treatment of all questions of public interest. I was married to Albert D. Richardson, in Auburn, N. Y., on the 20th of October, 1859. Our first child died in infancy. Our second child, a daughter, was born in Washington, D. C., on the 4th of July, 1862. Our third child, a son, was born in Washington, D. C., on the 4th of July, 1864. Our fourth child, a son, was born in Washington, D. C., on the 4th of July, 1866. Our fifth child, a son, was born in Washington, D. C., on the 4th of July, 1868. Our sixth child, a son, was born in Washington, D. C., on the 4th of July, 1870. Mr. Richardson was a correspondent of the New York Tribune during the war, and was with the army in the field most of the time. He was also a correspondent of the Tribune during the first year of the administration of President Grant

RICHARDSON—M'FARLAND.

In the late trial of Daniel McFarland for the murder of A. D. Richardson, the case has had two theories: First, that Richardson had seduced McFarland's wife, and, before, deserted death at the hands of a outraged husband; and, second, that McFarland was driven to insanity by anxiety and grief, caused by Richardson's conduct. If, therefore, was not legally responsible for killing him. The one theory was meant to supplement the other; for, if the seduction were proved, it was assumed that that would lay a strong foundation for the insanity and to justify the killing; but, if the seduction were not proved, then it would be easy to fall back upon the insanity plea, and simple, when the prisoner would not be held responsible for an act of manslaughter. A layman could accept neither theory. If he believed in the seduction, but doubted that it was sufficient justification for murder, he could accept the testimony of the experts as to insanity and bring in a verdict accordingly; but, if he disbelieved in the seduction, he could believe that McFarland believed it and, consequently, went mad, and pronounce him, therefore, not guilty of murder. Ingenious as this theory is, the defense has failed in one respect. It has failed to provide for that class of minds who might doubt that the seduction was proven or that the insanity was proven, and who constrained, therefore, under their oaths, to bring in a verdict of guilty. But there is a limit to human capacity—even the capacity of a Toombs lawyer; and, believe, Mr. John Graham doubtless felt sure that he had provided for every possible contingency in the mind of the average New York juryman. The result has justified his confidence. His client was acquitted on the ground of insanity, some of the jury, perhaps, persuaded by experts that he was insane, and others, who

THE WHITE STOCKINGS VS. THE SOUTHERN CLUB, OF NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, May 11.—The White Stockings played their fourth and last game in New Orleans to-day, the Southern Club being their opponents. The weather was cloudy and cool, and it was a matter of surprise to all concerned that not more than 300 or 400 people were in attendance to witness the playing. Some difficulty was experienced in the selection of an umpire, the Southerners evidently being desirous of securing one who would give their friends all the runs he could fairly, getting to second by the skin of his teeth. At last, however, Mr. Tracy of the Lone Stars, was agreed upon, and at fifteen minutes past 4 o'clock the game was called.

THE BUSINESS MEN.

The positions of the nine players of the Southern Nine were as follows: Hoffman, third; Hennessy, catcher; Fitzsimmons, pitcher; Hall, first; Schonberg, first; Baldendorf, short stop; Handy, left field; Gallagher, centre field; Fyfe, right field.

THE CHICAGOS.

Owing to Hoffman's absence, occasioned by his hurt on Monday, he was placed on first, which he performed exceedingly well, Comfort took short and Flynn went to the right field. The Southerns lose most by not having Hall on the bag.

FIRST INNING.

Southern—Hoffman struck terrific to third was followed to base by Fitzsimmons, and he by Hall, who stole and by Handy, who stole on a passed ball and stroke by Hall, player. Hennessy ran to second and Hoffman to third on a beautiful throw by Wyatt to Woods. Wish struck a high fly to Comfort, and left both Hoffman and Hennessy came home, and Hennessy to third on a passed ball. Gallagher struck a short fly to Comfort, and the side was out. Pay left on third. Three runs.

Chicago—The White Stockings had new struck their regular batting form, and went to the bat unmercifully. They scored twelve runs, nearly all on fine hits, and were retired by Fyfe, Wish, high foul, well taken by Brandenburg; Hodes, on a high fly by Fyfe, and Foster by a fine catch by Wyatt.

SIXTH INNING.

Southern—Baldendorf struck to short left field, and got to first on a muff by Comfort. Fyfe played a handy stroke to Morris. Larkin was captured by Foster, and Baldendorf was forced out on a fly to short. O'Keefe sent a hot grounder too far for Comfort to reach, and got to first, Fyfe and Baldendorf coming in. Foster struck to Wyatt, who threw to Hall, and Foster was retired by Larkin to Brandenburg. Three runs left on third.

Chicago—Foster got first base on a safe hit to right, being second and third on passed balls. Hodes high fly to Handy, and Foster came home. Wood was captured by Hoffman to Hall. Comfort struck a terrific liner out on a fly to right field, and was helped to third by Treacy's error in fumbling the ball, Foster and Hall scoring second. Craver brought them both in on a fine stroke by Fitzsimmons, Morris was retired by Larkin to Brandenburg. Craver left on third. Three runs.

SEVENTH INNING.

Southern—Brandenburg struck to short left field, and got to first on a muff by Comfort. Hoffman was handily struck to Morris. Larkin was captured by Foster, and Brandenburg forced out on a fly to short. O'Keefe sent a hot grounder too far for Comfort to reach, and got to first, Hoffman coming in. Foster struck to Wyatt, who threw to Craver, at third. O'Keefe left on first.

Chicago—Southern changed both pitcher and catcher, O'Keefe to front and Hennessy to third base. The change was of no service, the two Stockings tossed out at first base, and those being scored by Craver, Myerle, Pinkham, Flynn, Hall and Brandenburg. Score stood 21 to 9 at the close. Comfort's by Hennessy, and Treacy's by Baldendorf.

EIGHTH INNING.

Southern—Hall struck a short fly to left, and got to first on a muff by Foster. Handy struck a high fly to Myerle. Larkin was captured by Foster, and Hall forced out on a fly to short. O'Keefe sent a hot grounder too far for Comfort to reach, and got to first, Handy coming in. Foster struck to Wyatt, who threw to Craver, at third. O'Keefe left on first. Score 21 to 9.

Chicago—Southern changed battery for the last time, Hall and Fitzsimmons taking the points. Craver struck terrific liner, Myerle, Pinkham, Flynn, Brandenburg and Foster being scored by Hennessy, Hall, Handy and Baldendorf; Comfort's by Handy, and Treacy's by Baldendorf.

NINTH INNING.

Southern—Hennessy struck to short left field, and got to first on a muff by Comfort. Wish struck a high fly to Myerle. Larkin was captured by Foster, and Hennessy forced out on a fly to short. O'Keefe sent a hot grounder too far for Comfort to reach, and got to first, Wish coming in. Foster struck to Wyatt, who threw to Craver, at third. O'Keefe left on first. Score 21 to 9.

Chicago—Southern changed battery for the last time, Hall and Fitzsimmons taking the points. Craver struck terrific liner, Myerle, Pinkham, Flynn, Brandenburg and Foster being scored by Hennessy, Hall, Handy and Baldendorf; Comfort's by Handy, and Treacy's by Baldendorf.

Southern—Pinkham hit to short centre and got to first, reaching another base on passed ball. Flynn struck the ball in front of the plate and got first, Pinkham being forced out by Baldendorf to second. Flynn stealing second. King was well stopped by Baldendorf, and got to first, Pinkham going to third. Flynn stealing second, and from there coming home on two passed balls. Hodes shortly was thrown out by Hall to Fitzsimmons, and Wood struck a long high fly to Handy, who dropped the ball, and Flynn came home. Comfort struck a long high fly to Handy, who dropped the ball, and Wood came home. Craver struck a long high fly to Handy, who dropped the ball, and Comfort came home. Craver was then thrown out by Hall to Fitzsimmons, the first and Pay second on passed balls. Brandenburg struck to third, and got to first, unaccountably and Craver was put out by Craver, now catching again, on the bound. Foster struck to Hall, and Brandenburg was forced out by Myerle at third. Score out, and two runs. Pinkham left on third. Brandenburg left on second. Handy on first.
